Honors and Activities

Delta Epsilon Iota
ADDA Certified
AIBD-Historian and Reporter

Mr. Parnell came to our firm in 2008 after graduation from the University of Central Missouri, Warrensburg, MO with his B. S. in Computer-Aided Drafting (Architectural/Civil).

He is proficient in all AutoCad programs including Inventor 2008, Autodesk, Autodesk Architectural, and Revit. Mr. Parnell is ADDA certified and made the Dean's List for five semesters.

During his campus activities, he was selected to be historian and reporter for the American Institute of Building Design (AIBD) and was active in the Delta Epsilon Iota fraternity.

Mr. Parnell has shown proficiency with several drafting/design project assignments. With the projects given to him, not only has he worked with the design team to produce a clear, complete and accurate working plan and detail drawing, but he also has used his knowledge of various engineering design practices, mathematics, and building materials to be used.

He enjoys handling numerous jobs and is committed to meeting project goals and benchmarks, and producing a quality drawing for the client. His goal is to expand his professional skills and provide excellent service to the client.
