Neil Pickett, Drafter / Designer

Education
Linn Technical College
Associate of Technology,
Design Drafting

Neil Pickett brings 20 years of experience to CM Engineering. His responsibilities include not only drafting but design as well. He has performed a key role in the drafting and design of several large projects with exceptional success.

He enjoys working with clients from the design development phase to final construction. He is attuned to the needs of the client as well as all aspects of the fundamentals of industrial design, and commercial and structural detailing and design, in order to produce a high-quality construction document for the project.

Mr. Pickett's education has been a key component in his success in design-drafting. He received two scholarships to Linn Technical College and received a blue ribbon in Mechanical Drafting at Missouri State District Competition.
